

A PRETTY VERMONT HOME.

Capt. Hutchinson is a
Stanch Friend of Peruna,
Made so by Personal Experience.

The Home of Captain Hutchinson, of Montpelier, Vt.

Chronic Catarrh and Throat Trouble.

"It gives me pleasure to write you this letter at this time on account of the good your Peruna has done me when I was quite done up with a very bad cold. I could hardly perform my ordinary duties, but from the use of Peruna I am almost restored to health."

"I am quite convinced that it has helped me from chronic catarrh, to which I am subject. It has also benefited my throat. I can truly recommend it as the best all-round medicine it has been my privilege to become acquainted with. Of this I am quite convinced from my own experience."—Capt. Lemuel M. Hutchinson, Montpelier, Vt.

Can Now Eat Anything.

Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Columbia City, Ind., writes: "I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Peruna."

"I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas, causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal."

"But, thanks to your Peruna, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals as I used to do, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine, Peruna."

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."

A Nervous Breakdown.

Mr. Lewis Zim, editor and proprietor of "St. Augustine Meteor," writes:

"Any man in public work finds at times that he is under a peculiar nerve strain. I found that with it I lost my appetite, and my brain seemed to work unceasingly during waking and sleeping hours, so I was tired and worn out in the morning."

"Tonics and invigorators were suggested and tried, but nothing was of benefit to me but Peruna. That is certainly a remarkable medicine. I was restored in three weeks to my normal healthy condition, my appetite returned and my sleep was refreshing."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA CLAWS OF BIRDS.

The Toes of These That Perch and of Those That Run.

Let us note that the art of standing began with birds. Frogs sit, and, as far as I know, every reptile, be it lizard, crocodile, alligator or tortoise, lays its body on the ground when not actually carrying it. And these have each four fat legs. Contrast the flamingo, which, having only two, and those like willow wands, tucks up one of them and sleeps poised high on the other, like a tulip on its stem.

Note also that one toe has been altogether discarded by birds as superfluous. The germ or bud must be there, for the Dorking fowl has produced a fifth toe under some influence of the poultry yard, but no natural bird has more than four.

Except in swifts, which never perch, but cling to rocks and walls, one is turned backward, and by a cunning contrivance the act of bending the leg draws them all automatically together. So a hen closes its toes at every step it takes, as if it grasped something, and, of course, when it settles down on its roost they grasp that tight and hold it fast till morning.

But to birds that do not perch this mechanism is only an incumbrance, so many of them, like the plovers, abolish the hind toe entirely, and the prince of all two legged runners, the ostrich, has got rid of one of the front toes also, retaining only two.—London Strand Magazine.

PASTIME PUZZLES.

Dickens Pictures Extremely Popular. Perforated Souvenir Postcards.

The fad for picture puzzles is still at fever heat, and dealers say that sales of the famous jigsaw pictures are on the increase instead of decline. There is now a line of Dickens pictures which are extremely popular. They include all the coaching scenes in these famous novels, like Mr. Pickwick arriving at the Blue Lion, David Copperfield bidding goodbye to the Micawbers, Nicholas Nickleby starting for Dotheboys Hall, etc., and are cut into about 350 pieces. Attention is now being given to well known historical pictures, too, as well as that of the world's best art. The color work of Frederic Remington and Walter Appleton Clarke is coming out in picture puzzles.

The latest fad is the progressive picture puzzle contest, a fascinating game which may be participated in by any number of players, the trick being to see which person or group can first put the picture together. The pictures come in sets containing four, six and eight boxes.

Another fad which has doubtless sprung from the picture puzzle is the perforated souvenir postcard. These cards are perforated in square and odd shapes, and the idea is to write your message on the reverse side of the picture and then break the perforated lines, put the pieces in an envelope and mail. In order to read the message the recipient must first match the picture on a book or magazine, place another book or magazine on top, reverse and read the message.

JUNE FESTIVITIES.

Three Pretty Table Decorations For Children's Parties.

A June party for children can be made a thing of beauty as well as a joy for the time being with but little effort if nature is called to the assistance of the home decorator. The house, more especially the dining room, should be profusely decorated with vines, branches and other "green things growing," in order that it shall as nearly as possible be a replica of outdoors.

The refreshment table is always the center of the greatest interest to children, so should be made as festive as possible. Above it erect a framework of light wood and cover it with vines. From the framework, at certain intervals of space, suspend small paper lanterns of various colors. These should be lighted at the last moment and should be watched closely to ward off all possible danger of fire. If there are electric lights in the house a bulb could be placed here and there among the vines at a slight expense and would be just as effective as the lanterns and perfectly safe in so far as fire is concerned. The effect of this arrangement when the room is darkened and the lights on will be like a scene from fairyland.

Another pink and white color scheme may be prettily carried out by the use of pink roses, which luxuriate at this season, and wood ferns. Place a large, low bowl of half open roses and buds on a mat of fern leaves in the center of the table. Stand smaller bowls of the blossoms at the corners of the table and extend inch wide runners of pink and white crepe paper, which has been slightly ruffled by pulling the edges between the thumb and forefinger, from them to the centerpiece.

Suspend a white paper parasol above the centerpiece and fill it with roses and ferns, and from the ends of the ribs depend streamers of pink ribbon that end in a bunch of buds.

Or, instead of the parasol, suspend by means of invisible wire pink and white paper butterflies above the centerpiece.

Beside each plate stand a tiny pink and white candy basket filled with peppermint balls. To the handle of each basket tie a name card on which a butterfly is painted.

A dainty conceit for a "pie" at a child's June party is a Japanese umbrella filled with pink and white paper chrysanthemums, each one attached to a little gift. Pink ribbons attached at the stem end of the flowers and about the bodies of quaint Japanese dollies hold tiny paper umbrellas. In the center of the table place a dish of nuts surrounded with branches of artificial cherry blossoms. The umbrella should be hung from the chandelier or the ceiling.

To Keep Lettuce Crisp and Fresh.

After trying a number of ways to keep lettuce a housekeeper says that she finds the following to be the very best: Break off all the leaves, wash and rinse thoroughly and place in a covered dish, such as a vegetable dish or a bowl over which a plate will fit tightly.

Put no water in the dish except that which clings to the leaves.

Place in the refrigerator or cool place. For four to five days it will keep fresh and delightfully crisp and has the advantage of being ready when needed.

Facts For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy.

Minneapolis, Minn.:—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women, I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. Within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefits to be derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second St. North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

THE WINTER MENU.

Add These Recipes to Your Collection of "Favorites."

A pretty garnish for a consommé is the white of hard boiled eggs and sweet red peppers cut into small balls or some other shape.

A favorite dessert in a certain household is the following coffee and pineapple cream: Prepare a pineapple jelly. Decorate the bottom of a mold with almonds and candied pineapples or cherries. Arrange the almonds in circles to simulate the petals of a daisy. In the center of each daisy place a cherry or bit of pineapple. Pour enough of the jelly, before it hardens, over the flower barely to cover it—no more or the decoration will begin to float. Place on ice and let it stand until the jelly sets and the decoration is firmly imbedded in it. Then mask the sides of the mold with more of the jelly and fill with a coffee Bavarian cream. If preferred, the cream and the jelly may be arranged in two layers.

A decorative suggestion for a potato salad is to soak hard boiled eggs, after shelling, in beet juice until they are a deep pink or red. Then slice them and add to a potato salad placed upon a bed of lettuce. The salad is particularly pretty if the lettuce is the russet kind with tints of red in it.

An attractive dessert is a pyramid of various preserved fruits. Place this in the center of a dessert platter and decorate with a border of lady fingers alternated with rosettes of whipped cream. Drain all superfluous juice from the fruit. Two or three preserved pears, a few spoonfuls of berries and cherries make a good combination. The whipped cream may be flavored with maraschino.

Instead of using fresh fruits in a fruit jelly try preserved fruit for variety's sake, with a champagne jelly as a foundation.

Most so-called bonds are "near" bonds—bonds by courtesy only.

You can never get on an ordinary bond paper a letter-head as good as you need, as fine as you expected.

Real bond costs a fraction more than "courtesy bond."

COUPON BOND

costs one-tenth of a cent per sheet more.

But the added dignity, the increased compelling power, the real obvious difference in the finished letter-head it gives, is worth ten times the extra fraction on its cost.
